DANIELSON

Students Return for Holidays—Lemuel J. Coburn lands on his feet again—Big Carnival Night Saturday—Christmas Committee Spots Impostors.

Misses Margaret Aylward and Helen Aylward spent Thursday in Providence.

Harold Greene is on duty as substitute clerk at the postoffice for the holiday season.

Ernest Tatrow has entered the employ of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company as a locomotive fireman.

Mrs. R. N. Colvin, who has been ill during the past seven months, remains in an unimproved condition.

Miss Mary L. Wheatley, who is studying at Auburndale, Mass., is at her home here for the holiday recess.

Miss Eleanor Smith is spending a holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith.

Miss Katherine Bill is with her parents, Judge and Mrs. Arthur G. Bill, for the holidays.

Henry A. Swan of New Bedford was a visitor with friends in Danielson Thursday.

Miss Ruth Smith is here for the holiday recess with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith.

Firemen's Concert and Ball. John Jaeger is chairman of the entertainment committee of the Danielson Firemen's association, arranging for an annual concert and ball.

Much generosity on the part of employers toward their employees is indicated in the Christmas giving that is to be done in Danielson next week.

Two rainy days among the few remaining before Christmas have given the clerks in local stores a chance to recuperate for the rush that is sure to be on from now until next Tuesday night.

A. E. Beauregard's Little Store of Quality offers many beautiful things in jewelry for Christmas giving—watches, diamonds, rings, etc.—adv.

Ground Pine Plenty. Unlimited quantities of trailing or running pine is to be had near East Killings by those who may want it for making holiday wreaths. It is free to those who will go and pick it.

Adequate Car Service. The Connecticut company will again have extra cars in service on the Putnam lines Saturday that those who go a-shopping may have plenty of accommodation, as was the case last Saturday.

Coburn President of New Company. Lemuel J. Coburn, who on Monday night was deposed as president of the Connecticut Crushed Stone company, was not long out of a job. It was announced Thursday that he has become president of a Waterbury crushed stone company.

Christmas shoppers will find a fine line of sleds, skates, hockey sticks, cutlery, oil heaters and Crawford ranges at Andrew E. Meacham's store—adv.

At the Orpheum theater Thursday evening a new version of East Lynne was very acceptably given by the Avia Palace Stock company, which is one of the best stock companies that have been in Danielson, though bad weather has kept the audiences somewhat reduced.

Eli Dagenias Back in Borough. Eli Dagenias, who has been operating a hotel at Georgiaville, R. I., has returned to make his home in Danielson, where he owns considerable property. Mr. Dagenias has not announced what business he will engage in.

The offer of prizes that has been made for essays written by students of Killbuck High school has already stimulated much interest among the students.

Another Carnival Night. A big crowd of shoppers is expected here tomorrow (Saturday) night, which will be another carnival night, with band concerts, confetti by the peck, and all of the other features which gave the big street crowd such a happy time last Saturday evening.

IMPOSTORS SPOTTED. Christmas Dinner Committee Pretty Certain Who Deserves Aid and Those Who Are Fakirs.

There has been some hesitation this year over dropping money in the boxes that have been placed in different stores for the reception of funds that will be used for bringing Christmas in fact to the needy of Danielson. The complaint of those who object to giving in that in past years people who have money have been helped from this fund, when they were perfectly able to look out for themselves, and again, that other beneficiaries of the generosity of the local public seem to be able to find money enough to go to the theater two or three times a week, but look to the public to supply them with Yuletide cheer.

These allegations can be backed by facts. Cases are known where people who have money in the bank have accepted aid from the committee that has had the charitable work in charge and there are others who graciously accept the gift of a Christmas dinner and save their own money for use in attending the picture shows. But there is another and far more important side of the story.

Danielson has some people who really need aid and who are entirely beyond the position in which people are able to help themselves. They are old and helpless and lonely; they are without money or friends. Left to their own resources, they must bend their poverty stricken heads in grim fortitude, but with undiminished hope of something better somewhere at some time, as a joyous holiday for the many makes glad those of favored circumstances throughout the world. They are deserving of all that can be done for them by a liberal public.

The committee in charge of the work know who these people are. Year by year they are finding out the impostors and fewer of the latter get assistance as years go by. For the sake of the worthy poor an appeal now goes out to those who are hesitating over making contributions. There is not one chance in a hundred that money given to the fund will go to the unworthy, those who give may rest absolutely sure of that. The weeds have about all been rooted out of the local garden of charity.

One dollar given to the fund for the needy of Danielson will do more real good at Christmas time than can a dollar spent in almost any other way.

Fire Chief Wilson Determined to Re-sign—New Company Organized—Redman-Melody Bout at Athletic Club—No. 2 Mill Getting Out Samples.

Though appreciating the fine testimonial of friendship of good friends contained in the resolutions presented him on behalf of every member of the fire department, Chief Mark Wilson said Thursday afternoon that he had not reconsidered his decision to resign as chief. His resignation had not been accepted by the common council, which has the making of appointments to the office. Chief Wilson says that his time is so fully occupied with business and other essential duties that he feels he cannot longer see his way clear to remain as chief of the department.

New Company Incorporated. The Putnam Iron and Metal company has been formed in this city and articles of incorporation filed with the secretary of state. The corporation has a capital stock of $15,000, of which $1,500 has been paid in. The incorporators are Aaron Gordon of Danielson, David H. Hatch and Etty Lavine, the two last named of Putnam.

Mr. Gordon is president of the company and Mr. Hatch is the secretary and treasurer. The company is to carry on a general junk business, with headquarters in this city.

Theatre Patrons Liked Edith Montrose. An exceptionally fine act, one giving wide opportunity for the display of the histrionic abilities of the actress, was that given to the patrons of the Bradley theatre Thursday by Miss Edith A. Montrose, known as A. Bundle of Art, an apt appellation. Miss Montrose is known as one of the country's greatest female quick comedians and during the twenty minutes that she is on the stage, portraying five different characters, she shows something that is out of the beaten path in vaudeville—as original as of theme and character that is superlatively pleasing.

Rodman-Melody Bout Arranged. J. T. McLellan, matchmaker for the Putnam Social and Athletic club, has arranged for the most important boxing bout that has been offered at any time to local lovers of the many art. He has signed up Frank Rodman of Webster to meet the famous Honey Melody, the man that beat the previously invincible Joe Walcott, the Black Demon, for the welterweight championship of the world, which has since been lost by Melody, however, though he still remains one of the greatest men in the country at his weight. The men are to meet at 145 pounds and are to go 12 rounds. The bout is to be staged here in about three weeks.

Christmas Sunday Evening Service. Following is the program arranged for the services at the Baptist church on Sunday night: Prelude, The March of the Wide Men; doxology; invocation; anthem, Glory to the Lord; responsive scripture reading; hymn; prayer; response, The Beckoning Star; offertory, He Shall See His Flock; of the offertory; prayer; scripture lesson; hymn; sermon; anthem, Sing and Rejoice; benediction; postlude, Silver Trumpets.

Good Season for Road Building. Road builders have been able to go along for an exceptional time this year on state work in towns in this part of Windham county, and today, the last day of the fall season, finds them still at it. The Trumbull Construction company, which has the contract for building the state road from the Putnam town line to the village of Attawaugan, has been able, on account of the unusually mild weather of the past few weeks, to do much of the rough work, grading, filling, etc., on the section called for in their contract and they are still on the job. The cut-off through the Wheaton property has been made and the greater part of the work upon it done, though it must be given some finishing attention. The company will be able to complete its contract early in the spring, giving an all-star road from Putnam to Danielson, something that has been long sought after.

Edward S. Thomas May Be Judge. It is hinted at Hartford that Edward S. Thomas of New Haven and Eastford stands an excellent chance of receiving one of the two appointments to the superior court bench that Governor Baldwin will have to make during the coming two years and those who know Mr. Thomas best think that such an honor would be fully deserved, as much for his ability to adequately fill a judgeship as for the services he has rendered to his party and to the state during the past few years.

Grange Takes Action on Death. Ella R. Wood, Andrew J. Kennedy and Howard C. Bradford, as a committee of Putnam grange, have framed resolutions of condolence in connection with the death of J. Clinton Nichols, one of the prominent members of the organization.

No. 2 Mill Gets Out Samples. Samples of fine cloths are being gotten out at the No. 2 mill of the Putnam Woolen company, which is to be operated by C. Fred Waterman and Percy Waterman, who for a number of years made such a remarkable success at the mill of the French River Textile company.

Various Items. Eastford item: "Nate Spink caught a coon lately weighing 13 pounds. Not all caught yet."

A supper and cake sale at St. Philip's church Thursday evening brought together a large part of the congregation.

Bugbee's, Dresser's and the People's store are the places in Putnam where Red Cross stamps are for sale.

Alderman J. Harry Mann is a committee of the common council in charge of the matter of presenting resolutions to the Danielson and Webster fire departments for the aid they gave in fighting the big fire here a month ago.
